THE DAY OF THE GANG IS PAST

SO SAY MEN WHO KNOW ABOUT
NEW YORK CRIMINALS.

Monk Eastman the Last Leader of a Gang
—He Was a Coward and Not to Be Compared With Former Leaders—Conditions
That Make New York More Orderly.

When Monk Eastman, the thug and gang leader, who was sentenced to Sing Sing for ten years the other day by Recorder Goff, regains his liberty he will be a very lone-some thug if he tries to resume his old business on the East Side in the haunts where he has had a more or less vague reputation as a bad man. The haunts won't be there ten years from now, nor seven years and four months from now, when the Monk will get out if he has sense enough to take advantage of the good behavior provision of the law. So say the experts on criminology of this city, and those whose business it is to keep track of the changing conditions of the East Side.

The haunts won't be there, and the day of gangs will be gone. It is gone now practically, for after all Monk wasn't much of a leader, except in print, and his crew was a poor apology for the gang of a decade ago.

Poor leader as he was, even Monk won't have a successor, and his departure up the river, says Inspector McCluskey of the Central Office, ought to put an end to the talk of gangs which is just a futile attempt to keep alive the belief in a picturesque type of criminal which no longer exists.

Monk Eastman was not dangerous," said McCluskey. "He had just one good punch and if he caught a man alone and had enough of his own crowd with him he had the nerve to give that punch and put the man out."

"The other members of the gang were more cowardly, even than Monk and stuck to him only because they were afraid of him. Nobody is more relieved at getting rid of Eastman than his own companions."

law and order, they had a barbaric sense of justice; and if the expression "honor among thieves" ever meant anything, it was in their day.

"One of the important gangs that made a specialty of bank robberies had an agent employed in one of the biggest safe factories in the country who kept them informed of the latest improvements in locks. They had a chemical laboratory in an East Side tenement where they made and tested explosives. They were intelligent, many of them, as well as reckless."

"But all these crimes that I've mentioned required great individual courage. They involved a risk on the part of the criminals. There was not much speaking and trickery about their methods. It was man to man and gun to gun and 'you'll have it or I'll have it.'"

"There are no bank robberies to-day. Highway robbery, for the most part, is practised to-day, is the holding up of children on their way to the store with a nickel to buy a loaf of bread. The men who are murdered are attacked from behind."

"That is the method of Monk Eastman and thugs of his degenerate type. They pick the pockets of poor women going to market. That is a crime which the old time bandits of the town would have scorned."

Important Spring Sale of Undermuslins
Saving An Average Third of Regular Prices.

Dozens, yes, hundreds of makers of Undermuslins come to us with propositions to make up garments which we can sell for ridiculously little prices. And we turn them down, one after the other, for the garments they offer would not suit Brooklyn women. We have built up this Underwear business on the satisfaction that comes with good service. If a woman should buy a Corset Cover or Petticoat here and when she got it home find it badly shaped and ready to rip out we should have made a sale—and lost a friend.

We buy no "sale" garments in the ordinary sense. We never sell Underwear that is not right in every respect. And so when, as to-day, we can through trade conditions which we have turned to advantage offer high grade, desirable Undermuslins for an average third under our usual low prices, the news is bound to meet with prompt response.

One of the most important sales we ever held at this season starts to-morrow. Thousands of garments are concerned and all are fine and new and pretty. Extra space and extra salespeople will add to your convenience in choosing. Here are details:

49c. Gowns, 29c. Of muslin, tucked yoke, V shape, cambric ruffle on neck and sleeves.

98c. Gowns, 59c. Of nainsook, cambric and fine muslin, in several good models, V shape, high neck, round yoke and tucked yoke, trimmed with fine embroidery edges and laces.

$1.59 and $1.79 Gowns, 98c. Of fine nainsook and cambric. The nainsook Gowns are made in low neck and short sleeves; also square yoke effects, mostly lace trimmed and ribbon trimmed; the cambric have tucked yokes, some with insertion of embroidery and V shape yokes, trimmed with embroidery.

$1.59 and $1.79 Corset Covers, 98c. Of nainsook, low neck, French bodies, several new and good models; low round neck, with insertions of Val. lace and ribbon run through; some with embroidery and lace, and others trimmed entirely with embroidery.

$1.59 and $1.79 Drawers, 98c. Of fine cambric and nainsook; some have ruffles of embroidery 5 inches deep; others are lace trimmed, in a variety of styles.

$1.59 and $1.79 Petticoats, 98c. Of fine cambric and lawn; the flounces trimmed with deep embroidery, and some have lace insertions and lace edges; others are hemstitched effects.

$1.49, regularly $1.98 to $2.50 GOWNS. Of fine soft nainsook, low square and round neck models, some short sleeves, all prettily trimmed with Val. laces and embroidery and ribbons.

PETTICOATS. Of cambric and lawn, principally lace trimmed, some with Torchon; others with Point de Paris and fine embroidery ruffles.

DRAWERS. Of nainsook, made with lawn flounces, edged with embroidery or lace, some with ribbon.

CORSET COVERS. Of nainsook all low neck, square and round effects, trimmed with lace and ribbon.

Manufacturers' Samples. We have added to the sample lot an assortment of pretty pieces consisting of Gowns, Corset Covers, Drawers and Petticoats; all are elaborately trimmed with fine laces, Val., Torchon, Cluny and Point de Paris, slightly soiled from handling, but all are very exceptional bargains.

Second Floor.

Women's Tailored Suits—Under Cost.
$25 for $35 to $65 Values (40 Suits).

Take Revolving Stairway. The only drawback to this extraordinary offering is the small number of the Suits. We wish there were five times as many.

For think of it! Every single one of these Suits has been made since March fifteenth. They represent the very newest styles from Paris—with, of course, some of the modifications that are making for American women the reputation of being the best dressed women in the world. They are all the finest work of one of the best commercial tailors in Manhattan—and with any sort of reasonable season they would have been sold as soon as he could finish them, for the full price.

The cold winds have blown us—and you—this remarkable good fortune.

The Suits are made of fancy mannish mixtures, mohairs and taffetas, mostly in the Eton coat effects. No more than one of a style. Full $35 to $65 values at $25.

Some Stirring News of Upholsterings.

With everybody planning Spring and Summer furnishings, here comes some of the finest news we ever had to print—the only difficulty being that for the most part the lots are comparatively small, so it will be wise to come early.

First comes a group of high grade Couch Covers which we can sell for about half price because they are samples:

$2.50 to $3.50 values at $1.48
$6.50 to $7.50 values at $3.95

Then some fifty odd Portieres in Oriental designs and mercerized effects. They have been regularly, even here, sold for $4.50 to $8.50 a pair. To-morrow's price, $1.65 apiece

Ruffled Muslin Curtains—one of the light Summer hangings that everybody wants more or less of. Full three yards long and in eight styles of popular dots and figured centers. Regularly 98c. and $1.10 a pair for 85c. a pair

Third Floor, Front.

A Record Sale of Used Pianos

Fifty Pianos started the sale, and a number that were not in condition last week have since been added. But we are not crying "wolf" when we say that it will be the part of wisdom to come early—to come to-morrow—if you would be sure of getting fair choice.

It is more than a successful sale. It is a compliment. Brooklyn people know as well as we that it is easy enough to buy a carload of worn-out Pianos, furnish up the cases a bit and sell them as "great bargains." But Brooklyn people know, too, that such questionable methods are not Loeser methods.

Every one of these Pianos was either accepted as part payment for one of the instruments we regularly sell, or it is one of our own fine Pianos which have been rented and returned.

They have each been thoroughly overhauled and put in good playing condition. In some cases they are practically as good as new. But they are not new, and therefore we have made the prices so little as to ensure their very prompt distribution.
